

“The Immortality Song”

Lyrics by Todd Publitz

Music/Arrangement by Todd Publitz and Justin Goodrich

Copyright 2017

I have a decent life... but I work too hard
I've been waiting all my life to draw a lucky card
Now as I get older and the future is past
There's just one thing that I'd like to ask...

I work so hard – every day
But it never seems to matter.. what the hell I say
I can't make a difference any other way
So listen to my song – before I fade away...

I don't wanna to be just a brick in the wall
I don't wanna think I don't matter at all

Would somebody out there please play my song?
I just wanna be remembered when I'm dead and gone
It's my only shot at immortality
So won't you give a listen - please, please, please, please, please?

I don't need attention... I'm kinda shy
I just want to leave a mark before I die
A lasting impression that isn't a lie
Before I fade away to the eternal sky

I don't wanna to be just a brick in the wall
I don't wanna think I don't matter at all

Would somebody out there please play my song?
I just wanna be remembered when I'm dead and gone
It's my only shot at immortality
So won't you give a listen please, please, please, please

Please play my song
Please play my song
I just wanna be remembered
Please play my song

I just wanna be remembered
I just wanna be remembered